

INDEX

A

Antebellum Negro, The Social Condition of the, 211—the life blood of a people, 211—social character of slavery, 211—personality of the slave, 213—wardship of dependents, 214—institution patriarchal, 215—maintenance of slave, 217—economic value of slave, 219—religious and secular instruction, 221—domestic manufactures largely in hands of blacks, 222—custom stronger than law, 223.

Army, The, its staff and its supply departments, 162—Army at close of Civil War, 162—at declaration of war with Spain, 163—what has been accomplished, 164—the staff, 165—the situation April 25, 1898, 167—four months after, 168—duties of different departments, 172, 173—transportation in its most difficult form, 174—the Ordnance Department, 176—the Pay Department, 177—events previous to declaration of war, 179—campaign mapped out in 1897, 182—work of Regular Army, 185—appropriation for National defense, 188.

Arthur, Life and Literature in the Time of, 90.

Autobiography of Col. Richard Malcolm Johnston, 229—introduction, 229—antecedents of family, 230—life at home, 233—to school at five years of age, 234—in Latin at ten, 236—goes to Mercer University, 239—extremely sensitive as a boy, 240—takes a school on graduating in 1841, 241—began to study law in 1842, 243—married in 1844, 243—takes academy at Mt. Zion, 243—returns to study and practice of law, 244—elected to professorship in State University, 245—life at Athens, 246—an incident, 249—resigns position at beginning of war and opens 'Rockby,' 251—removes to Baltimore, 254—conversion to Roman Catholic faith, 255.

B

Babcock, William H., article on the life and literature in the time of Arthur, 90.

Ballagh, James Curtis, Ph.D., article on the social condition of the antebellum negro, 211.

Bates, Brigadier-General Alfred E., article on the staff and supply departments of the army, 162.

Brannigan, Hon. Felix, article on legal aspect of the Philippine question, 5.

C

Catholicism of France, The, 278—power of religion to restore decaying nationality, 278—the religion of people is Catholic, 279—France not Catholic in sense that Belgium is, 280—the fear of ridicule, 282—her clergy the keynote to victory, 283—unfortunate narrowness of education in this century, 287—France's influence through literature, 289—Paris the world's arch-capital, 292—the function of art in religion, 293—Catholicism the unbroken historic Christianity for Italy and France, 296.

Index

Church in Cuba, The, 190—religion of people almost exclusively Roman Catholic, 190—same to-day as when Spaniards took possession, 191—Church and State hand in hand, 192—religion has declined in nineteenth century, 193—condition of time of late rebellion, 195—Church opposed to rebellion in general, 200—neutrality of Church on island, 201—protest against inhumanities of Weyler, 202—spiritual jurisdiction remained unchanged, 203—appointment of Bishop of Havana, 208—future of Cuban Church, 210.

Commercial Possibilities of the North Polar Region, 392.

Cuba, The Church in, 190.

Currier, Charles Warren, article on the church in Cuba, 190.

F

Farquhar, Edward, article on elements of unity in the Homeric poems, 337.

Fiske, Christabel Forsythe, article reviewing sundry tales of terror, 37.

France, The Catholicism of, 278.

G

Goethe, The Youth of, 299—birth, 299—the cry for 'light,' 300—genealogy, 300—a normally constituted child, 302—a lover for nearly eighty years, 303—matriculates at Leipzig at sixteen, 305—completes formal education at twenty, 306—the 'storm and stress' period, 308—his power of making friends, 310—'The Sorrows of Werther,' 311—literary lion of Germany, 312—old Weimar, 313.

Goode, Hon. John, article on the Virginia secession convention of 1861, 75.

H

Harrison, James A., article on the youth of Goethe, 299.

Homeric Poems, Elements of Unity in the (Part I), 337—general aspects of the question, 337—individuality of Homer, 340—threads of unity running through, 344—twenty-fourth book of Iliad, 347—evidence in succeeding writers, 349—Mahaffy's treatment, 350—popular derivation of institutions from heroic age, 353—'New Model' as important nucleus of Iliad, 354—Genesis of Iliad, 356—expansions, 359—interpolations, 360.

Hope, James Barron, 142—author, historian, journalist, 143—pronounced Virginia's Laureate, 143—his father and mother, 144—education begun in Germantown, Penna., 145—fights a duel, 146—first volume of poems brought out in 1857, 147—some of his famous poems, 147, 157—the 'Lee Memorial Ode his masterpiece, 157—the Lord Fairfax epitaph, 160—his domestic life, 160.

I

Ion, Theodore P., article on the South African war, 316.

J

Johnston, Autobiography of Col. Richard Malcolm, 229.

Index

L

- Legal Aspect of the Philippine Question, A*, 5—civil status of natives, 5—rights of Spanish subjects, 6—United States assumed sovereignty, 7—analogous cases, 8—Spanish-speaking inhabitants owe allegiance to no power but United States, 9—Supreme Court holds that Constitution and laws extend as far as applicable over newly-acquired territory on proclamation of treaty, 12—natives inhabitants of territories of United States, 15—example in case of former acquisitions from Spain, 16—Chief Justice Taney on status of inhabitants of Territory of Louisiana, 18—same doctrine reiterated, 20, 21—legal status of civilized inhabitants of new territories same as that of New Mexico, or Arizona, or Alaska, 26—doctrines of territorial expansion has become established principle, 29—question of prosecution on charge of aiding or inciting rebellion or insurrection, 32—mode adopted by Congress for protection of inhabitants and prosecution of crimes committed in unorganized territories of United States, 34—status of American citizen in islands, 35.
- Life and Literature in the Time of Arthur*, 90—what we know of Arthur, 90—our witnesses, 91—the Welsh poems, 92—Dr. Skene's work, 92—professedly contemporary testimony of Gildas, 94—endorsement of two novel 'finds,' 96—Historia Britonum, 96—sort of life led in Arthur's time, 101—epics of the period, 101—singular purity of old writings, 107—tone and characteristics of poetry, 109.
- Livingston, Edward*, 361—founder of the family, 362—began schooling at Albany, 363—graduated from Princeton, 363—admitted to bar, 364—elected to Congress, 365—opposed creation of Navy Department, 366—protection of American seamen, 367—Mayor of New York, 368—contracted yellow fever, 369—District Attorney of New York, 369—goes to New Orleans, 370—the Burr conspiracy, 372—Batture matter becomes cause célèbre, 374—Jackson's chief adviser, 375—great legal reform, 376—elected to Congress from Louisiana, 379—great catastrophe, 380—one of his arguments, 380—some prison horrors, 382—few Americans equally respected in Europe, 384—debt to Government extinguished, 385—his chief political ambition, 385—service in Senate of short duration, 386—becomes Secretary of State, 388—appointed Minister to France, 389—sojourn in Europe of great interest, 391.

M

- Marr, Janey Hope*, reviewing the poems of James Barron Hope, 142.
- Morgan, Appleton*, article on the 'Passionate Pilgrim' affair, 270.

N

- Negro, The Social Condition of the Antebellum*, 211.
- Newcomb, H. T.*, article on the theory and practice of the spoils system, 256.
- North Polar Region, Commercial Possibilities of the*, 392—civilization and mankind marching northward, 392—first step in intelligent study of the Arctic, 393—the Arctic Archipelago, 394—principal rivers which empty into the Arctic Ocean, 396—land and water area, 397—absolute temperatures, 398—topography of floor of the Arctic Ocean, 398—warm currents, 400—the inflow, 400—outward currents, 401—geology, 403—the ethnological problem, 404.
- Norway and Sweden, The Relations of (Part II)*, 114.

index

P

'Passionate Pilgrim' Affair, The, 270—object of paper, 270—fashion of the day, 270—what is included in the collection, 271—second edition brought out in 1612, 273—an analysis of this transaction, 273—poetry in Love's Labour's Lost proves nothing, 275—little reliance to be placed on Elizabethan title pages or dedications, 276—'A Lover's Complaint' tacked on at end of 1609 edition of Sonnets, 277.

Peck, Charles H., article on Edward Livingston, 361.

Philippine Question, A Legal Aspect of the, 5.

R

Relations of Norway and Sweden, The (Part II), 114—constitution of 1814—no minister for foreign affairs mentioned specifically, 116—Swedish subject is minister to-day in violation of constitution, 116—peace and responsible consular service of utmost importance to Norway, 120—remodeling of service most pressing need, 122—King tries to form Reactionary ministry, 125—covert threat of Swedish intervention, 127—Norway's merchant flag, 132—struggle between legislative branch and executive, 135—flag bill passed a third time, 136—Swedish democracy will demand same rights as Norwegian brethren, 139—Norwegians preparing for next campaign, 139.

S

Secession, The Virginia Convention of 1861, 75.

Shahan, Thomas J., article on the catholicism of France, 278.

Spoils System, Theory and Practice of, 256.

South African War, The, 316—points of international law, 316—what is a semi-sovereign State, 317—under protectorate of suzerain power, 317—has suzerain power right to dictate, 319—question of political privileges, 321—'inherent right that every civilized State has to protect its citizens in case of gross injustice,' 323—interests of neutrals, 325—the seizure of the General, 321—passage of troops through neutral territory, 332.

Staff and Supply Departments, The Army, 162.

Stejneger, Leonhard, article on the relations of Norway and Sweden, 114.

T

Tales of Terror, The, 37—reviewing in part, Horace Walpole, 'The Castle of Otranto'; Anne Radcliffe, 'A Sicilian Romance,' 'A Romance of the Forest,' 'The Mysteries of Udolpho,' 'The Italian,' 'The Castles of Athlin and Dunbayne,' 'Gaston de Blondenville'; Clara Reeve, 'The Old English Baron'; William Beckford, 'Vathek'; Matthew Gregory Lewis, 'The Monk,' 'The Bravo of Venice'; Charles Brockden Brown, 'Wieland,' 'Edgar Huntly,' 'Arthur Mervyn,' 'Ormond'; Mrs. Shelley, 'Frankenstein'; Charles Robert Maturin, 'Melmoth,' 'The Fatal Revenge,' 'The Wild Irish Boy,' 'The Milesian Chief,' 'Women,' 'The Albigenses'; John Banim, 'The Tales of the O'Hara Family'; Thomas Leland, 'Longsword'; Sophia Lee, 'The Recess'; Regina Maria Roche, 'The Children of the Abbey,' 'The Chapel Castle,' 'The Nocturnal Visit,' 'The Nun's Picture,' 'The Maid of the Hamlet,' 'Clermont,'

Index

'The Bridal of Dunamore,' 'The Vicar of Lansdowne,' 'The Tradition of the Castle,' 'The Munster Cottage Boy,' 'The Discarded Son'; Leitch Ritchie, 'The London Night's Entertainment,' 'Schinderhannes, The Robber of the Rhine,' 'The Game of Life'; Francis Lathom, 'Mystery,' 'The Midnight Bell,' 'The Mysterious Freebooter,' 'The Impenetrable Secret,' 'The Fatal Vow, or St. Michael's Monastery,' 'The Unknown, or the Northern Gallery,' 'Very Strange but Very True,' 'Astonishment!!!'

Terror, The Tales of, 37.

Theory and Practice of the Spoils System, 256—annual tirade against civil service law, 256—table showing strength of reform, 257—what Garfield said, 258—American spoilsman troubled by no arguments, 261—distribution of patronage by politicians, 263—Garfield a martyr to spoils system, 265—two departments to which civil service law never applied, 267.

U

Unity, Elements of, in the Homeric Poems, 339

V

Virginia Secession Convention of 1861, The, 75—what was maintained on both sides of the question, 75—peace conference at Washington, 77—Mr. Chase's declaration, 77—organization of Virginia convention, 78—addresses before the convention, 78, 82—proposed amendment to Constitution, 82—Mr. Lincoln's proclamation of 15th April, 1861, 84—Governor Letcher's reply, 85—Governor Letcher appoints Robert E. Lee commander-in-chief, 87—General Lee's acceptance, 88.

W

Wagenen, Theo. F. Van, article on the commercial possibilities of the North Polar region, 392.

War, The South African, 316.

Y

Youth of Goethe, The, 299.